CAT CALL

With his Instagram-famous feline, Choupette, serving as muse, Chanel designer Karl Lagerfeld teams up with beauty brand ModelCo for a line of high-glam, super-playful products. The 50-piece range includes twinkling lip glosses housed in light-up tubes with built-in mirrors. But the dual-ended liquid liner—with a precision tip on one side and a stamp of Choupette's face on the other—steals the show.

Karl Lagerfeld + ModelCo Lip Lights Special Effects Top Coat in Rumba ($26). Collectible Karl Blush Brush ($54/set of 5), and Long-Lasting Liquid Liner + Choupette Beauty Stamp ($30); nordstrom.com.

“I dot the Choupette stamp under the wing tip of my eyeliner for a quirky take on a cat eye.”

This stamp is an ode to Lagerfeld's pet, Choupette.

Setz Blot + Translucent Powder, $4/pack of 5; cvs.com.

READY, SET, TOSS

Keeping your makeup in check just got a lot easier thanks to these new individual packets from Texas-based company Setz. Each envelope contains a flat single-use (recyclable) sponge and enough translucent powder to instantly absorb excess oil so you can preserve your flawless face.
